Summary

As a child, I loved all things sweet. As a teenager I wanted to make new things, and as an adult I knew I wanted to make these things for others. I was fortunate enough to pursue my love of baking and make it into something more than just a hobby. I have met so many talented chefs and enjoy learning new recipes and techniques from anyone willing to share their knowledge. Baking and decorating cakes is my passion, and watching people enjoy something I created makes me love my work even more.
